Class Day Oration - Locals.

Clement Garnett Morgan is the first of our race who, in the rivalry of college life, has been accorded pre-eminence. His oration at Harvard on class-day justifies the judgment of those who selected him for one of the most highly prized honors of the University course. It was very much above the average of youthful rhetorical efforts. The gentlemen who have been measuring the value of education by the amount of dollars it enables its possessors to win, can profitably ponder over some of the excellent truths uttered by Morgan. They would learn that the young man who rightly breathes the atmosphere of a university recognizes that there are objects in life very much more precious than riches to those who have the wisdom to appreciate their value. There is the spiritual man of the world who comprehends the duty that he owes to humanity, and who prepares himself for the tasks that await him by discipline which will enable him to do his share in the world's duty work and by the pursuits which uplift and refine him. The man who holds that education should fit one not only for practical affairs but for an intellectual and spiritual eminence which raises those who have attained it far above the grosser concerns of life, does very much by reason of his own development, for the advancement of civilization. In stating this truth, Morgan has finely justified his handicapped but successful struggle for the higher education. Morgan was heartily cheered. Rarely was such enthusiasm shown as was on that occasion.

Children's Day at Zion M. E. Church last Sunday evening, consisted of very interesting exercises. The programme was a lengthy one and was composed of solos, declamation and reading, and remarks by the superintendent, Philip I. Alston. It was attended by quite a large crowd.

Do not forget to go on the Union Church picnic to Lake Walden Grove on the 10th.

Rev. C. S. Boston, of Roanoke, Va., delivered an excellent discourse at St. P. B. Church last Sunday evening. Text, Revelations IV-7. He held his audience spell-bound throughout his sermon. Rev. Boston is an excellent speaker, and we hope to hear him again, soon. He leaves for Philadelphia where he has been stopping for the past few months.

The members of Mt. Ararat Tabernacle gave an entertainment on last Monday evening, to a few of their friends, at their lodge-room. Mrs. Florence Blanche and Master Walter Stephens entertained the visitors while refreshments were being served. A good time was enjoyed by all present.

Manchester Notes.

MANCHESTER, Va., June 25, 1890. Messrs. D. C. Moon, Prof. J. H. Blackwell and Q. W. Moon, left the city last week for the north.

Prof. D. W. Davis was in the city last Sunday and addressed the 1st Baptist Church Sunday School in the interest of the convention. The Prof. addressed quite a large and appreciative audience at the 2nd Baptist church also, at night. Prof. Davis is a forcible speaker indeed, and it is a rare treat to hear him.

St. John's Day was celebrated on the 24th by the Masonic Lodge of Manchester. A Division of Sir Knights were over and participated in the parade. After the parade the members returned to their Hall room where they partook of the dainties of the season.

Mr. J. J. Norman left the city last Monday for Philadelphia. Mr. Alexander Johnson is erecting a fine dwelling house in New town near the old place, fronting on Holly street. New town is taking the lead in fine buildings, such as are erected by our people here of late.

Mr. J. H. Jones who was taken sick recently is out again.

Mr. E. H. Brooks is yet confined to his room by sickness. Mr. Thomas Brown formerly of Manchester but now of N. J. is in the city. Mr. Brown was telegraphed for, to come in haste as his mother (Mrs. Rollins) was dead. Alfred, his brother is not in possession of the sad news up to this writing. They have our sympathies in their bereavement.

The Second Baptist Church Sunday School will have their Picnic at Woodlidges Farm in Chesterfield on the 4th of July.

Rev. A. Binga, Jr., D. D., baptized eleven persons on last Sabbath. The Dr. takes great pleasure in defining why we are Baptists on these occasions.

The kindness shown the District Deputy of the I. O. G. S. D. of S. by Sharon Lodge No. 92 is quite commendable. We fail to find language to express ourselves for the above kindness shown. We wish the lodge success through this Samaritan year.

The new pulpit set of the 2nd Bapt. Church looks quite attractive indeed. We do not think it could be bettered. The committee whoever they are knows their business.

RICHMOND, VA., JUNE 24th, 1890. We the undersigned merchants doing business on Broad Street, hereby agree to close our Establishment promptly every evening except Saturday at 8 o'clock P. M., from July 1st to September 1st; Sam Rose, Henry Myer, E. Hughes, Charles Held, Simon Syde, Louis A. Behle, D. Strauss, J. R. Sheppard, M. Schaap & Brother, W. Talley, Trustee Stein Bros., B. THE MURDER OF SWAYZE.

"The public have read of the lynching of Geo. A. J. Swayze, in East Feliciana parish, last Sunday. This is another of those crimes that sends a thrill of horror from one end of the land to the other. The circumstances are slowly coming to light. The murder was cold-blooded and horrible in its perpetration, though one hardly credits the report, that his person was mutilated before he was killed—that he was castrated while alive and he himself begged the inhuman fiends torturing him to put an end to his life, when they strung him up to the limb of tree. "Horrible deed!"

Swayze was in the peace of the State; he had committed no crime and given no provocation. The feeble attempt to represent that he was lynched because of an alleged connection with a killing which occurred 15 or 20 years ago, is abundantly disproved by the fact that he had been arrested and acquitted of the charge on a preliminary trial, and had lived in that parish some time after that. He had, more over, lived in New Orleans openly, always taking part in politics and representing West Feliciana in all the Republican State Conventions ever since leaving the parish. Had there been an accusation pending against him it would be the easiest thing to apprehend him and bring him back for trial.

The sum total of his offending was that he went to East Feliciana in the interest of the Louisiana State Lottery. An election for State Senator was to be held last Tuesday. There were two Democrats in the field—an Anti-Lottery candidate and a Pro-candidate. East Feliciana was the Anti-Lottery parish, West Feliciana the Pro-Lottery. Each intended to poll its Negro vote according to its predilection, without consulting the wishes of the Negro voters. If the Negroes of East Feliciana could be kept from the polls, and those of West Feliciana were driven to the polls, the Louisiana State Lottery might carry the day. The first part Swayze, who was a leader among his people in the Feliciana parishes, might do. This was the program; this selfish motive that sent the unfortunate Swayze to his executioners in East Feliciana and to his grave. This is emphasized by the fact that a bunch of the following circulars, which he had for distribution among the colored voters, was found on his person:

An Address to the Colored People of East Feliciana Parish:

The contest of the Senatorial election which is to be held on Tuesday, the 17th of June, is of no interest to you. On the contrary, the friends of the Lottery and Anti-Lottery factions seem to be agreed only on one point, and that is to eliminate you from the present issue. Now, as this is strictly a factional fight amongst the Democrats, we advise all colored people to abstain from voting, thereby leaving the settlement to the Democrats, which will afford them the chance to arrange their differences.

BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

In going to East Feliciana Swayze had committed no offense. He had done what he had a perfect right to do. He was exercising the privilege of an American citizen to support or oppose a proposition before the people for acceptance or rejection. He only forgot that he was entering a territory controlled by the high morality party of the State, sanctimonious men who would rather see their "mothers delivered of bastards" than buy a lottery ticket, and would rather employ murder as an agency to carry conviction than free speech. Such is the actual state of the "civilization" of which we pride ourselves.

—Crusader.

"Colored men, every brave honest white man likes a brave honest Negro. The men who are opposed to you being gentlemanly are not gentlemen, the men who are opposed to you being all you can be, are not much. Courage, everywhere!"—Meridian, (Miss.) Fair Plays.

"Wine white men get lazy they invent some sort of a rascally scheme to rob a poor ignorant colored man out of his earnings, and the strangest thing of it all is that the colored people will bite at those infamous schemes."—Leavenworth, (Kan.) Advocate.

"If the southern press would talk for one week against mob violence, as it has for months against the enactment of a Federal election law to insure fair elections in the south, Judge Lynch would go in this southland of ours. Well, we must have the law as the press encourages mob violence and election fraud by its silence concerning these great wrongs."—Tennessee Star.

"The lynching of Mr. Geo. Swayze, at West Feliciana, on last Tuesday, was another of those outrageous affairs which so frequently occur in the south, and which should not only be condemned by public sentiment, but should be punished by the officers of the law. So long as this condition of affairs exist in that section of the country, will its citizens be held up to public censure and ridicule. We have had the honor of his acquaintance for years. He was a brave and courageous man, who deserved a peaceful death, rather than to have died at the hands of a brutal mob. Some retributive justice will soon come to these people. The mills of the Gods grind slowly, but they eventually grind to powder, the enemies of justice and right. Would to God that an Egyptian plague with all the horrors of its pestilence should deal death and destruction to these uncivilized barbarians."—Springfield (Ill.) State Capital.

Sunday-School Association.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, JUNE 24, 1890. The Albemarle Sunday School Association had a call meeting with the Union Ridge Baptist Sunday School on the 21st and 22nd inst. This Association is destined to be a great power in organizing and assisting feeble Sunday Schools, and in disseminating Baptist literature and doctrine. There was quite a large delegation present, and a handsome contribution realized, thus evincing the appreciation of the schools composing the organization. Rev. Scott of First Baptist Sunday School was appointed to preach a special sermon in the morning but failed to be there on account of urgent matters but made up for it in the afternoon. He preached an eloquent sermon, and all who heard was pleased with it. After an old fashion hand-shaking the Association adjourned to meet with the First Baptist Sunday School Saturday July 26, 1890.

JOHN F. ILLIPS TRIAL.

How Overbey was Killed - To Hang Dead by the Neck - No Money, Few Friends.

BOYDTON, VA., June 23, 1890. Not seeing anything in your valuable paper, concerning the Phillips trial, which took place in this Co. on the 27th of last May, I venture to attempt to give you the facts of this most notable of all the trials, which ever happened in this Co. It did, and does appear quite strange to the reasonable and thinking people of Boydton why a military company should be here and elsewhere. They remember the recent case of Harvey, which occurred in this Co. some years ago. Didd Smith killed John Harvey, walked up to him in the streets of Chase City, and shot him down, inflicting a mortal wound from the effects of which Harvey soon died.

Some time last year a white man named Trotter shot Chase City, shot, and killed a colored man by the name of Bas Wimbush. In the first case both mentioned parties were white. Smith was not even hanged, died in jail. Trotter, who killed the colored man, Wimbush, was not even put in jail, claimed sickness, had the consumption and died before the trial came off. All admit that the murder of Wimbush was a cold blooded affair. Yet, the colored people, who the Bourbon Democrats say are not good and law abiding citizens, never organized a lynching party to take the law in their hands, to bring disgrace and shame upon the Co. and State.

But when John Phillips, a stranger to the people of this Co. killed Capt. Overbey, then did lynchers bubble up and it was so well known that they intended to lynch Phillips, that His Honor Judge Irving of the Circuit Court had Phillips brought from Petersburg under a military escort of twenty-eight persons, arriving here at 4 o'clock P. M. May 27th. The lynchers intended there should be no trial so that night they came

ONE HUNDRED STRONG with the avowed purpose of going to the jail, and taking Phillips out of the hands of the "Boys in Gray." After getting in town, they learned that it would not be an easy job. That these boys were not to be played with. So, they came to the crowd dispersed without having reaped vengeance upon their desired victim. The morning of the trial came. Large crowds were present. Allow me to state that this was the first time I saw, or heard of a man being on trial for his life in Virginia, without money, without friends, and without having counsel, but so it was with Phillips. It was quite a while before His Honor secured Phillips a lawyer.

It speaks bad for the many young lawyers of Mecklenburg bar, that not one would take the case, and that an old noted member of this bar, A. S. Lee who is without doubt the ablest lawyer in the Co. consented for the sake of honesty and justice to take the case. All honor and praise to him who would rather do his duty by his fellow man, knowing that it would be unpopular resulting in the abuse of him and causing him to have the frowns and applause of many. Mr. Lee first motioned for a change of venue stating that the prisoner

COULD NOT GET JUSTICE at the hands of the jury of this Co. which motion the court over-ruled. Then commenced the testimony. There were a number of witnesses examined to prove Capt. Overbey's physical inability. The Commonwealth's witnesses stated that Capt. Overbey had been sick with rheumatism and was unable to pick up a stick though they frankly admitted that he drove to Clarksville and back, a distance of 14 miles that day—hitching and unhitching his own horse.

Clem Roberts being duly sworn deposes and says, that John Phillips, John Urvin and himself had been down to the store which was a mile or two off, came on back, got over the fence in the lane near Capt. Overbey's house. That John Phillips and John Urvin were talking in a high glee and sudden they stopped and he kept on down the lane, meeting Capt. Overbey coming up the lane leading a horse. Saw none of the fight and knew nothing about it.

Next came John Urvin. He is also indicted and will be tried as an accessory to the crime. Being duly sworn deposes and says; that Phillips, Roberts and himself went down to the store and came back through the field, got over the fence near Capt. Overbey's house, and a few yards from which place they met Capt. Overbey coming to the house leading his horse. John Phillips was cursing. Capt. Overbey said to them that "I've no objection to you all going through here, but you must respect my family. I am not going to have any indecent language used here." John Phillips replied abruptly, saying, "I've already respected you and your family, but you must respect me too." After a few more words Capt. Overbey caught up a stick, struck at John the first time and missed him. Second time hit him in a light lick on the arm then dropped the stick. John seized it and hit him one lick from the effects of which he died that night.

John Phillips' testimony was about the same. The only difference was that John Urvin said, that John Phillips told him that he intended killing Capt. Overbey the first chance. This John Phillips denied. This is about the only testimony. The prisoner was ably defended by his lawyer Mr. Lee. Of course it availed nothing, for every man on the jury was white and their minds were made up even before they heard the testimony.

Now they are going to try John Urvin for his life. Notwithstanding nobody pretends to claim that John Urvin ever hit Capt. Overbey a lick. He has no money or friends and of course he will not be able to employ a lawyer. What can be done, and what will be done? We hope that some colored lawyer may come to Mecklenburg and live, and may take the colored cases.

After hearing the testimony they rendered a verdict of murder in the first degree. The Judge fixed the time of hanging Aug. 15, at the C. H. of this place. At May court John Urvin who was with Phillips when Capt. Overbey was killed and Phillips himself, were taken back to Petersburg jail for safe keeping. As they were not regarded safe in this County.
